Foreword

We the Annual Staff of 1963-64 have tried to show the concept of our relationships and contributions of our school to our American Democratic society.

To this concept of Democracy, we add our collection of memories in hopes that they will always be a lasting reminder to us as we take our place in the adult world of responsibility.

In Memoriam

We, the senior class of 1964, wish to dedicate this Spartan annual to Dorlene Roeder, who for six years had been our classmate and friend.

Dorlene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roeder, passed away March 27, 1963, at the Ford Hospital in Detroit, following a heart operation.

Since the annual reflects senior memories, this dedication makes Dorlene a part of those memories.

A big thank you to the sponsors whose help made it possible for us to publish our yearbook.

Faculty and

The school administration and faculty conference compares to the American Press Conference in that the teachers influence the students just as the reporters influence the lives of the American people. The teachers present and interpret the learning material situations for the individual students and for the entire system just as the reporters present and interpret the news of the governing and the governed.

Both the school conferences of faculty and administration and the press conference of government administration are trying to build a better nation by informing and educating the citizens of today and tomorrow.

Pinconning Area School Board

The Pinconning Area Schools are governed by the local board of education. The board members are elected for four year terms, usually two members at a time, so that they may carry out a long range program. At its first meeting the board elects its new officers, and the new president appoints members to the standing committees for the following year. Regular meetings are held on the third Wednesday of each month, to discuss and vote on measures that are necessary for the educational development of the district.

Administrative Staff

MRS. RENO

Mrs. Reno is secretary to Mr. McHugh and Mr. Wilder. She has been secretary here for eight years. During this time, she has been an advisor to every student here.

Cafeteria Staff

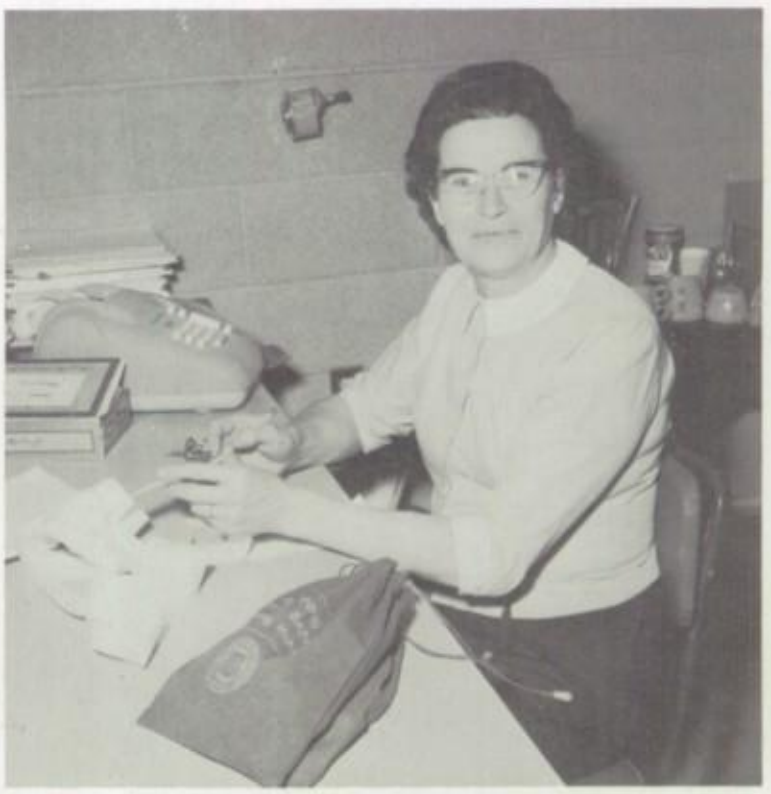
The cafeteria staff is very busy this year as every other year. This year there are three noon hours to serve and plan meals for. First noon hour they serve about 175 students, second noon hour they serve about 165, and third hour about 185 along with 30 teachers for a total of about 550 students and teachers a day.

Mrs. Nora Wait, head cook, who has been with us for seventeen years, plans the menu, oversees the kitchen and orders the supplies.



MRS. NORA WAIT

Graduates

Today we cannot think of our school or small town as a unit by itself. Our graduates will in their life-times find themselves on all points of the globe.

The girl you sat next to in biology may be an instructor in home economics in South Africa a few years from now.

The boy you admired in sports may be an Olympic contender.

The boy who was the "A" student in your chemistry class may someday find a cure for cancer.

The molding of a person's character, interest, and ideas is carried on throughout his school years. Each of us is part of a world society that is growing closer everyday. Our school has tried to prepare us so that we may contribute to our society as good, active, intelligent citizens.

In our annual this year, we have not only published a book of senior memories, but we have tried to show what our school experiences may contribute to our national and world society. "No man is an island unto himself."

Valedictorian

Valedictorian this year was Nancy Leavens who maintained a 10.9 average during her years in high school. Nancy participated in many extracurricular activities and received the D.A.R. Good Citizen Award. Upon graduation she plans to attend Michigan State University where she will major in biochemistry.

Salutatorian

Salutatorian was Susan Yascolt with a point average of 10.7. She was active in many clubs and received the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award. Susan plans to attend Michigan State University and major in English and home economics.

An Annual Success

The Theme for the annual Shop, Art, and Style Show, held in the Pinconning Gym, April 22, was "Sweet Sixteen." It was based around the months of the year.

Much hard work and long hours were put into the show by Home Ec., Shop, and Art students. As you can see here, talent lies in many fields.

Activities

Just as the United Nations functions to reaffirm faith in the fundamental human rights, to maintain worth and dignity of the human person and of nations large and small; so does the Student Government of Pinconning Area High School function.

As the U.N. aims to unite strength to maintain international peace and security; our Student Council aims to unite classes in organizing a better student government for our school.

Although all students in the Future
Teachers of America Club do not become teachers, the club fosters an interest in teaching as a career and provides information about other areas connected with teaching.
This club is affiliated with both state and national FTA Clubs. Sponsored this year by Mr. Wilder, the Club officers went to C.M.U. for the annual workshops and sold stationery for activities.

Library Club

All the Seniors received pins for their services; with first year pins going to the Seniors who have worked for one year and second year pins going to the girls who have worked two years.

Rose Hitz checks out and checks in books and also puts them away. It all sounds like a monotonous routine but it isn't. Activities such as the picnics in which all the student librarians participated, helped add to the enjoyment of all concerned.

The library has received 500 new books both fiction and non fiction in the past year. It has been decorated very nicely throughout the school year.

Debate Team

Two of the most active teachers in the High School are Mr. and Mrs. James Deurloo. Under their coaching, the Debate team won three of their ten meets with the conference schools; Gladwin, Standish, Oscoda, Tawas and West Branch.

Three wins was a good percentage for the inexperienced team on the topic, Resolved: the Federal Government should provide essential medical care for all citizens at public expense.

The Debate team received their first degree pins as the one shown at the top of this page, Saturday, April 4, at a dinner held in the dining room of Terry and Jerry's "O'Sole Mio" in Bay City. The team were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Duerloo.

A file box, a pen and cards, are a few of the necessary items of a debator. The card that is shown being written was only one of the approximately 160 cards on file by both the affirmative and negative teams.

A sure winner in the Junior Division was Kenneth Meddaugh's project. A large amount of observation and data composed it.

The Science Honorary Club is an organization in which a student can carry on his interest in any branch of science.

The club as a whole, strives for a large science fair to be presented at the end of each year.

At this fair, any school member will be given an opportunity to show and display any project that he has completed during the year.

This year, the fair had Junior and Senior Divisions with a new group division, with more than one person working on a project.

The group division received ribbons as their awards, and the single divisions, trophies.

In the Junior Division, winners were: 1st, Kenneth Meddaugh, "Effects of Alchohol on Mice;" 2nd place, Mike Kurchak, "Experiments in Electronics;" 3rd, Kenneth Seyiun, "The Earth." 4th LaRae Doan, "The Brain and 5th, Mike Duranczyk, "DNA Molecule."

Nancy's project was immediately chosen for her "purpose" and scientific thought. Nancy had 200 hours on her project. Also having 200 hours on his project was Dan Paris. Notice the complexity of his project. Dan placed 3rd.

The Latin Club has been in existance since 1946. The membership has risen from 14 in 1950 to 63 in 1964. Mrs. Farr has been sponsor of the club for 14 years. She feels that the increase in number has made an increase in problems.

Mrs. Farr feels that she does not know the members as well as she would like to. Getting a hold of them will always be a problem. Fair distribution of responsibility and opportunity among members seems to be the greatest problem, however, students have an active part in the clubs functions under a constitution written by the students. They gain practice in parliamentary procedures. Certain responsibilities for the welfare of the club activities are planned and carried out by the students.

The members benefit from such a club in many different ways. A member should gain added knowledge about the Classical Heritage as a member of the Junior Classical League--they have access to material one might not otherwise have. The State and National Convention give an opportunity to visit campuses of various colleges, museums and hear lectures by people who are aucharities in their field. Last but certainly not the least, the students have a chance to meet other students from different schools both in and out of the state. The Junior Classical League has many branches in foreign countries. It is a club with universal ties.

Future Homemakers of America

One of the fastest growing clubs in our school is the Future Homemakers of America. The object of the chapter is to help individuals improve personal, family, and community living through organized programs set up by the homemaking education program in the schools. Every three years, a National program of work is developed to serve as a guide to state associations and local chapters.

Mary Johnston was very happy and could hardly believe it when Mrs. Field brought the letter telling her that she had won the highest goal in FHA which was the FHA State Degree.

The school was very proud of Mary because she was the first one from Pinconning to receive this Degree.

The Band is trying to acquire new uniforms. They are raising money by having dances, a raffle and an outdoor movie. They are also having car-washes, concerts, and uniform rentals. At the beginning of May, they had a total of $2,300 toward their goal of $10,000.

The Combined Chorus under the direction of Mr. James Mahoney sang "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee", and "Born To Be Free."

Suzanne Filipeck was chosen for the National Arion Glee Club Award, for her outstanding contribution to her musical organization. The award is given only to seniors who are selected by a 10 point qualification.

Both Senior High and Girls' Junior High Chorus join for a number at their Annual Spring Concert.

On May 22, the Pinny Vocal Dept. presented the first Musical Merry-Go-Round to be produced in the High School. Our Glee Club hosted Gerrish-Higgs High School Choir from Roscommon and also their Dance Band.

The program was brought about though the combined efforts of Mrs. Lois Mahoney and Mr. James Mahoney, the Roscommon director.

Many spirtuals were sung by Roscommon, who also included a Mixed Ensamble singing a special arrangement of "Do, Re, Mi", for variety. Pinconing presented a small portion of the program, following an excellant presentation by the Roscommon Dance Band.

Immediately following the concert both groups enjoyed a party in the school cafeteria.

The Spartan Spirit Organization commonly known as the "Pep Club" was organized to encourage and promote School Spirit.

To gain better support for the teams, under the leadership of Mr. Stein, they have worked hard and diligently in designing and painting posters.

They raised money to support their program by selling pins and sweat shirts.

Pep meetings, arousing the student's spirit and held before each home game, are one of the major activities of the club.

BANDYK'S PINCONNING ROOFING AND SUPPLIES

From the first moment the football soars through the air to the last moment the baseball slaps into the mitt to the despairing cry, "You're out" the Spartans are in the game, fighting all the way.

Sports

The athletes of a small school are as eager, spirited and determined, as American Olympic contenders whom they and the world admire.

The Alumni of our school may never compete in world competition, but they will gain experience in team effort, in personal and social relationships, as well as keeping physically fit.

These character builders contribute in making better citizens for our country and world society.

Varsity

Although the Spartans' record didn't show it, the Spartans had a fine year. They showed that they were a rough team by knocking off West Branch, one of the leading teams in the conference. They also defeated their chief rivals 13 to 0.

The team will be hurt next year by the loss of 13 seniors.

R. Foor

This year's choice for one of the four backs on the all conference football team goes to Ron Blank by unanimous vote.

Dale Billingsley left guard, Dan Paris defensive guard, and Chuck McNealy end, were all in the running but did not get enough votes to make the team.

Rod Foor, who for the past two years has been doing a very fine job on the varsity as a lineman, was in a tie for the all conference team. However, in the tie-breaking ballot he lost his first team position.

A graduate of Wayne State University, where he majored in health, physical education, and industrial arts, is our Head Varsity Coach Gary Baillargeon.

Coach Baillargeon also teaches general mechanics and mathematics.

Although Mr. Fagen has been in the school system for three years, this is his first year as assistant football coach.

This year's Varsity basketball team ended with a 1-9 record in the NBC Conference and a 4-14 over-all record.

The season was full of let downs as Pinny was picked by the press to be the league top contender, but for some reason they just couldn't meet the specifications and fell to the bottom of the power packed league.

The Spartans will miss three seniors that will graduate this year; Fran Bourdon, Dan Musselwhite, and Rod Foor, who made the All-Conference 2nd team.
